

Manufacturing life safety products

Pioneering innovation, creating a safer more inclusive world

The Company

Evac+Chair is the original manufacturer and global leader in emergency evacuation chairs for the mobility impaired. Independently tested and proven to be the safest and fastest means of evacuation, Evac+Chair is trusted and relied upon in emergency situations to assist in saving people's lives.

At Evac+Chair International we have been designing and manufacturing life safety products for 40 years. Committed to pioneering innovation, we create a safer and more inclusive world, as our products are designed to assist in saving people's lives. We have a global footprint and export to over 70 countries worldwide. We develop collaborative working relationships with our partners to deliver a consistent brand and service proposition, tailored to each country's cultural requirements, yet support our global umbrella of providing solutions to protect people's lives.

Paraid is the leader in innovative medical transfer equipment, to help assist in saving lives in medical situations. We understand that many patient transfers are extremely challenging, and our aim is to provide solutions which protect patients and clinicians, during this critical stage of patient care.

Working with NHS trusts, ambulance services and international partners, we provide bespoke neonatal, paediatric, and adult transfer equipment. We have a unique set of capabilities which come from a blend of in-house expertise, highly skilled designers, field technicians and production teams ensuring we deliver solutions that meet the tough demands of any medical environment.

We offer a bespoke design service enabling our clients to work with our award winning and experienced R&D Team, to design products which meet their exact needs and provide the optimum transfer solution.

We are looking for a self-starting and organised Trainer to work with us at Evac+Chair International, a manufacturing company based in Solihull, with approximately 100 employees.

Location: Field-based Derby, Nottingham, Leicester

The position of Product Training Consultant will include the following responsibilities:

- Delivering product training to a high standard to customers, colleagues, and partners.
- Carrying out pre-qualification calls and building relationships with customers and partners
- Recording and maintaining training records and sales leads using electronic systems
- Identifying opportunities for further sales and training, and following up on these
- Producing daily and weekly reports

The suitable candidate will need the following skills and experience:

- Highly customer and team focussed
- Extremely organised and a punctual self-motivated individual
- Accurate with a high level of attention to detail
- Strong communication abilities with excellent relationship-building skills
- Problem solving with the ability to work on their own initiative
- Flexible approach to work and the ability to adapt to changing priorities
- PC Literate and the ability to learn quickly
- Experience in a similar role is desirable but not essential

If you have the required skills and experience for this position, and you are seeking a challenging yet rewarding role, then please send your application to careers@evacchair.co.uk.

